JAPANESE BARBARISM

Further Details of the Port Arthur Affair.

UNARMED INHABITANTS SLAIN

Until the Streets Were Choked Up With Mutilated Corpses.

NEW YORK, December 19.—The World will tomorrow print special advices from its correspondent, James Creelman, who was with the Japanese army, dated Port Arthur, November 24th. Creelman says the struggle for the emancipation of Corea has been suddenly turned into a headlong savage war of conquest. It is no longer a conflict between civilization and barbarism. The Japanese for the last four days have trampled civilization under the feet of her conquering army. The taking of Port Arthur and the possession of one of the most powerful strongholds in the world was too great a strain upon the Japanese character, which relapsed in a few hours back into the brutish state from which it was awakened a generation ago. Almost the entire population found in Port Arthur has been massacred, the work of butchering unarmed and unresisting inhabitants has been continued until the streets are choked with mutilated corpses. In spite of the vastness of the battle field and the strength of the batteries massed in this mighty chain of land and sea, the taking of Port Arthur is robbed of its dignity as a battle by the fact that the large and well trained army attacked the mere rabble. The Japanese lost about fifty dead and 250 wounded, in carrying a fortress that would have cost them 1000 men had it been occupied by European or American citizens. China is now at the mercy of the island empire. In a few days fresh troops will be ready to leave Japan to join Field Marshal Oyama's army, and then the third and final movement toward Pekin will begin.

HIROSHIMA, Japan, December 19.—The third division of the first army took Hai Mo Chang on December 12th, and occupied Hai Chong on December 13th. Both places are on the route to and near Nai Chang and Liao Yang. The third army is on its way to join Field Marshal Count Oyama at Nai Chang. This is an exceedingly valuable strategic point.

Railroad Superintendent Killed.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., December 19.—Richard Newell Jr., chief engineer and superintendent of the Midland Terminal railroad, was shot and instantly killed this afternoon by W. A. Vanhouten near Anaconda City. Newell was on a work train, to which his private car was attached. He stopped the train at a cabin situated on the right of way and within six feet of the track. He jumped off the car and entered the cabin occupied by Vanhouten and his partner, serving them with notice to vacate. A dispute followed, during which Vanhouten shot Newell with a shot gun The tragedy resulted over a dispute between the owners of the Black Wonder mining claim and the railroad company as to the amount of damages to be paid for the right of way.

A Tramp Makes a Grass Widower.

SANTA ANA, December 19.—The list of tramps in Anaheim was decreased by one today, with the result that O. P. Miller was made a grass widower and the worldly possessions of his little girl diminished by $180 and a gold watch. The tramp with whom Mrs. Miller became so enamored as to leave the bed and board of her husband and rob her child, goes under the name of Joe McCarty, and while he was not prepossessing he was bright and intelligent enough to captivate the heart of Mrs. Miller, and with the prospects of a good feed while the money lasts, decamped without leaving word as to his future whereabouts.

The Appleman Trial.

WOODLAND, December 19.—It is not probable that the Appleman trial will be finished this year, though good progress was made today. The only new witness was Mrs. Newton, wife of Yardmaster Newton. She testified that she saw Appleman in Washington late in the afternoon of the wreck. J. D. Graham, a telegraph line repairer, identified Appleman as one of the men who took his tools away from him and derailed his railroad velocipede on the day of the wreck. His identification was shaken considerably on cross-examination.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—Six furlongs—Grandee, Miss Fletcher, Trimanda, Time, 1.24.

Five furlongs—Monrovia, Sir Reginald, Norlee. Time, 1.11.

One mile—Alary, Hawthorne, Carmel. Time, 1.52¾.

Mile and one-half, steeple chase—St. Brandon, Eli Kindig, Haymarket. Time, 3 36¼.

Six furlongs — Howard, Charmion, Wandering Nun. Time, 1.22.

Budd Will be Sworn in.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—Frank Gould, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, is sanguine that the Republican contest will be barren of result. He says that James H. Budd will be sworn in as governor and will assume the duties of his office. The law provides that when the result is declared in the legislature, said Mr. Gould, that the man having the greatest number of votes must be sworn in. The returns show that Budd is elected and he will be sworn in.

Attorney Philbrook's Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—No decision has yet been reached by the supreme court in regard to the disbarment proceedings against H. W. Philbrook, who is accused of conduct unbecoming an attorney in filing a brief attacking Justice Harrison of the supreme court, and endeavoring to intimidate the supreme court with threatening language.

Guilty of Seduction.

VISALIA, December 19.—The jury in the case of the people versus Lee Banner, charged with the seduction of Laura Slinkard under promise of marriage, rendered a verdict this morning of guilty. The case was sensational, fourteen days being consumed in the trial. The defendant is now a resident of Kings county, well-to-do and prominent.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

The Carlisle Bank Bill Vigorously Attacked.

WASHINGTON, December 19.—The debate on the currency bill continued uninterrupted in the house today. Messrs. Johnson, Republican of Indiana, and Ellis, Democrat of Kentucky, opposed it and Warner, Democrat of New York, supported it. The speech of Ellis was rather sensational in character and the applause it received from the free silver Democrats indicated plainly the unattainable opposition of the silver men of the house to the Carlisle plan. Mr. Bland gave notice that he would offer his free silver bill as a substitute for the bill.

Ellis, Democrat, of Kentucky, made a vigorous attack on the Carlisle bank bill. He charged the Democratic party in congress with being false to their promises in not passing a tariff bill for revenue only; in not repealing outright the 10 per cent tax on state banks, and in not restoring silver to its position as a money metal on the same terms with gold. The Democratic promises, he said, will not be redeemed until the people elect a Democratic President. When that day comes the chief executive will not be chosen from that small and elect class who believe that all the financial integrity and capacity in this country is quarantined on Manhattan island.

SENATE.

Practically all the time of the senate was occupied today by speech on the Nicaragua canal bill. Mr. Turpie, Democrat, Indiana, who has been speaking daily since Monday, completed his speech against the bill. Senator Perkins of California favored building the canal and pointed out the benefits which he thought would accrue from its construction.

The Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—Wheat, Steady; May, 99⅜c.

Barley—Inactive; December, 88⅝c; May, 92½c.

Corn, $1.25.

Bran, $12 a ton.

FRESNO REVISITED.

Changes Brought About in Three Years.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Three years ago I visited your city, and wishing to take a ride into the country to view some of your vineyards, I went into the building on the corner of J and Fresno streets to order a team, when I discovered the building was none other than the Fresno postoffice.

The next day I passed by the once famous ditch that passed through the town, noted for the deadly miasma it emitted. All these things the stranger wrote up at the time.

After three years of absence I return to find that my voice has been heeded, and that the ditch no longer emits its deadly odor, but has been filled up. Your postoffice's facilities and appearance have been greatly improved. My stay is short, but I have discovered a great eye-sore, also a very dangerous proposition to the city, and that is the brick walls that remain standing where the fire occurred over a year and a half ago on I street, opposite the Hughes hotel Let the city fathers see to it that the walls come down at once before any damage is done, for a very little shock would throw the walls down perhaps when people were near enough to be imperilled. A word to the wise is sufficient.

One thing more. I am sorry that the city municipal league that I organized was disbanded, for our league works successfully in Oakland and has resulted in much good. I see the league have some money in the treasury which they lately donated to charity. I tell my son, W. Parker Lyon, that Fresno has a good future and to stay with it. While Los Angeles has a boom it must certainly strike Fresno sooner or later. I talked to over 750,000 people at the Chicago fair and almost everyone said that as soon as the times changed so they could sell out they were coming to our state, and of course money will be attracted to this section. California certainly has a great future. All we have got to do is to wait a little longer.

J. L. LYON.

Election of Officers.

Manzanita Camp No. 160, of the Woodmen of the World, held their regular election of officers last night. The following were elected: Consul, Alva E. Snow; adviser, C. Chisholm; banker, C. A. Telfer; clerk, T. S. Price; escort, Bert Henry; watchman, J. W. Coffman; sentry, J. R. McKay; physician, Dr. J. L. Maupin; managers—long term Hiram Ford, unexpired term Henry Avila. The clerk's office will be at the Fresno Loan and Savings Bank.

This lodge is a beneficiary order, and is quite strong in this city. It numbers about sixty members. The Fresno camp has been in existence only nine months, and its future is promising. The lodge meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month at Edgerly hall.

Bradley Acquitted.

A. M. Bradley, charged with committing battery upon the person of S. F. Hand, a painter, was yesterday tried by a jury in City Recorder Clark's court and acquitted. The alleged offense was committed on November 18th. It appears that Hand took an undue interest in Bradley's family troubles. It was brought out in evidence that Hand had been picking quarrels with Bradley on various occasions. Bradley was greatly provoked before he struck Hand, for which he was arrested The jury was not slow in arriving at a verdict.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

Coroner Stephens yesterday received a telephone message from Pine Ridge stating that a man named Phillip Gotbub had been accidentally killed there. It appears that Gotbub, who was working at De Morris & Bancroft's sawmill, had a cabin of his own. He was inside when a storm blew down a tree which crashed through the cabin, Killing Gotbub instantly. He was 70 years of age, and has a wife and family residing in Fresno.

B. T. K. Preston of the Expositor has returned from a business trip to San Francisco.

H. N. Tenney took this morning's overland to San Francisco.

S. McBrid is here from San Jose.

NEEDED LEGISLATION

Interview With Dr. Pedlar, Senator-Elect.

A NEW ROAD LAW ADVOCATED

Appointment of Deputies Should be In the Hands of the Supervisors.

The legislature of California meets on January 7th, and there is work enough to keep it busy. Fresno county expects several things done for its benefit. Dr. A. J. Pedlar, senator-elect from this district, was seen yesterday by a reporter and was asked if he had made up his mind on what the county needed in the way of legislation. He replied that he had given considerable thought to the subject, and had formed a general idea of what should be done, but had not in all cases reached a conclusion satisfactory to himself as to the particulars. Continuing, he said:

"The present system of working the roads is not the best. It is lax and expensive. Bills for work are not itemized with business accuracy, yet they are technically itemized. A bill showing that seven men and seven teams worked ten days is not enough. It should state the names of the men, the kind of teams and that the days were full days.

"I have talked with many people in different parts of the county both before and since the election, and I think it is the general sentiment that there should be a change in the system of work. The county should be divided into road districts, say fifteen in number, and each district should elect its road overseer, the same as other district officers. Each overseer should receive the money for his district, to be expended as he thinks best. He should make a report yearly to the supervisors. I think this would give better satisfaction than the present system.

"I believe a supervisor should be required to live in his district so long as he holds office in it.

"I believe in reducing county expenses as much as can be done without detriment to public service. Official salaries in some instances are too high, but there are other instances of greater extravagance. There are also ways of reducing expenses besides cutting $10 a month off the salaries of deputies.

"The question of deputies is one not easily disposed of. The law must be uniform all over the state. This is difficult where there are so many classes of counties. The legislature is not the best judge of the number of deputies needed in each office. The same number is not needed at all times of the year. The amount of business varies. Some years more are needed than in others, and perhaps more are necessary in one part of the year than in another. The plan I have in mind will satisfy this condition, I think. I would have the legislature provide such deputies for each office as are absolutely necessary all the time, and no more. I would delegate to the board of supervisors power to appoint additional deputies from time to time as needed. For instance, if the tax collector needs one or more extra deputies during the busy time of the year, let the supervisors appoint them. When they are no longer needed let them be dispensed with. Under this method there would be no deputies except just enough to do the work of the offices by putting in full hours.

"I would have the law provide explicitly that the supervisors should not under any circumstances have any say as to who should be the deputies. The supervisors should allow the deputy when needed and the officer by whom he is needed should appoint him. This is the only sensible way. The supervisors are the best judges of the number of deputies necessary. They certainly could determine this more readily than would be possible with the legislature. While I would take from the supervisors some of their power in road matters, I would increase their powers in the matter of deputies.

"The wholesale arresting of tramps and Chinese gamblers is an expensive official practice without corresponding benefit to the people.

"The third court was not an absolute necessity when it was created, and there is not even a suspicion of necessity for its further existence. Neither the present nor the incoming governor should appoint a successor to Judge Holmes. The legislature should abolish one department of our court, and I shall go to Sacramento with a bill prepared to that end."

DREW HIS PISTOL.

Rampagous Chickens Get Their Owners Into Trouble.

A warrant was yesterday issued in Justice Crichton's court for the arrest of M. Decker for drawing his pistol on W. A. Stotenburg. Both are residents of Belmont. Decker is a street-car driver on the Belmont line. There seems to be a feud over some chickens which trespassed.

Stotenberg says that he went to remonstrate with Decker for letting the chickens run on his premises, and when he accosted Decker the latter drew his pistol on him.

Decker says that Stotenburg came towards him with a knife, and for protection he pulled out his pistol and held it ready

Decker is the man whom some robbers attempted to hold up some time ago at the car stable when he had put up his horse for the night. Decker responded with his trusty weapon, which proved very effective in putting the villains to flight. Some interesting developments are expected at the trial.

BASIC PRINCIPLES AND HUMBUG.

Undoubtedly there are too many people in this world who form positive opinions based wholly upon the evidence of things seen upon the surface, without any regard to underlying, fundamental principles, but this fact does not give a license to every scribbler with a hobby to prate of "basic principles" and to thrust his vagaries upon the people under the claim that they are founded upon fundamental facts and must be accepted regardless of the lessons of practical experience.

A recent writer in the Arena appeals to basic principles for proof of his contention that neither this nor any other government has the right to in any way restrict foreign immigration. This position is taken on the "broad ground" that all men have the right to go where they please on this earth, and that it is not the prerogative of any government to interfere with that right. The writer admits that restrictive laws have been enacted, but says:

True, our congress attemps to enact laws to prevent people from coming to this country; but all such laws are simply tyrannical usurpations of power, without the slightest shadow of right behind them. Public sentiment may sustain them, just as it sustained the superstition of the divine right of kings to rule and rob the people; just as it sustained for centuries the laws for the burning of heretics; just as it sustains today all sorts of laws that interfere with the divine right of every man to free thought, free speech, free labor, free land and free trade; but in the very nature of things all such laws are void for want of authority—void because there is no power on earth that has any right, or ever can have any right, to enact them.

This sort of stuff does not look bad in print, and it describes a theory tenaciously held by a good many people, but when submitted to the crucial test of experience its weakness and worthlessness is at once exposed.

The experience of this republic demonstrates to every practical mind that, notwithstanding the beautiful free trade, free land, and free everything theories, that the restriction of immigration is not only a right but a necessity—a necessity born of the devine right of self-protection. Even the zealous advocates of universal liberty will hardly deny the right of a healthy nation to set up barriers against people afflicted with Asiatic cholera. None the less have they the right to bar out a people bringing infections which are poisoning the moral and political life of the nation, degrading social conditions and implanting in the public mind and conscience the elements of decay and dissolution.

The theory maintained by the advocates of non-interference would permit the continuous unloading upon these shores of the anarchist and criminal scum of all christendom, the surplus population of the Chinese empire, and the degraded and brutalized production of centuries of ignorance and barbarism. No limit must be put upon it, no distinction can be made. The intelligence and patriotism of the republic may be buried beneath this swelling tide of human ignorance and degradation, but the "basic principles" of human liberty deny the right to stay the tide and preserve the people the heritage of a government of the people, composed of people who are fit for self government.

When the founders of this government declared its independence, they did so with a view to establishing on American soil a government which would be superior in its advantages to the masses of the people to any other government on the earth. The fullness of time has demonstrated that if those advantages are to be made perpetual, if a higher standard of citizenship, of education, of living and of wages are to be maintained, that certain barriers must be maintained between this country and those which have a lower standard of citizenship, of wages, and of living. To protect the American citizen in these advantages laws have been enacted, and the only mistake which has been made is in the lack of stringency and effectiveness which have characterized those laws aimed at the restriction of immigration. Protective tariff measures have prevented destructive competition with the degraded labor of the old world, but the laws have not prevented an influx of multitudes of the worst foreign element, not only to the injury of American labor but to every class and condition of the American people.

To deny that an enlightened people have the right to protect their superior civilization from the contaminating presence of the ignorant and degraded offscourings of other nations, or to protect their people from the degrading competition of menial labor, is to deny a right that is superior in every sense to the theoretical right of every man to go wherever he chooses. With the latter theory in force the American people might as well move on and let the Chinese take possession of this country at once. Better that than the attempt to compete with them in unrestricted numbers upon our own soil.

THE gold reserve in the United States treasury has decreased to about $91,000,000, and is still decreasing at the rate of one or two million dollars a day. Twenty-five and one-half million dollars in gold has been withdrawn within the twenty-five days which have elapsed since bids for the new bonds were opened, and, at this rate, another twenty-five days will reduce the gold reserve to the utmost danger point which the Cleveland administration has set for itself. Then, of course, under the present regime, it will be necessary to issue more bonds. So the game is played. And, speaking of the gold in the treasury, it is a curious fact that during the recent campaign not only did it not decrease, but, on the contrary, it very slightly increased. How shall one account for this fact? Easily enough. Political exigences demanded that the administration should conceal its hand during the campaign; so it paid current expenses from currency on hand—as it might have done at any time before—and just as soon as the campaign was over the payment of gold again began, and continued until more bonds were issued. It is all a scheme to give capitalists a chance to invest their money, and in it is witnessed the crowning infamy of the administration.

TO REVIVE SHIPPING INTERESTS.

The Stockton Mail says:

Among the plans broached for the benefit of American shipping interests is one providing for a system of discriminating duties favoring goods imported in American vessels. That is, charge goods imported in foreign ships 10 per cent higher duty than goods brought here in American vessels. It is claimed for this plan that it would aid every class of American shipping, and would also increase the revenues of the government, so sadly needed at the present time. We should have ships and seamen in time of war, and a large part of the $200,000,000 paid abroad annually by Americans for transportation would be saved to us. Such a law would do away with the necessity for mail subsidies, and it may be considered a compromise between free ships and bounties.

THE REPUBLICAN agrees with its Stockton contemporary that the protection afforded by the suggested law would prove the salvation of American shipping, if, indeed, that may be saved which must all be constructed anew. There never was an excuse for the extinction of American shipping interests, and the plan suggested would doubtless go far to bring back the vitality that once characterized that industry.

CONTROLLER COLGAN says in his annual report that many items of expense now permissible under the law can be eliminated without injury to the state. Undoubtedly this is true, and among the chief duties of our representatives-elect will be that of assisting to cut off these unnecessary expenses. The necessary, legitimate expenses of a growing state like this are large enough in all reason, and extravagances must be dispensed with.

RANDOM REMARKS.

Such of our exchanges as are congratulating their readers that times are getting better seem to forget that a session of the state legislature is just ahead. It is better to look ahead before one cries hallelujah.

"He is a scoundrel, a scoundrel and an infamous villian. He has basely wronged me, but I will be revenged. Aha! I will be r-r-revenged."

"How?"

"I will have my wife get up a high tea and invite him to it."

A man in Australia refused to pay his wife's burial expenses, because he had only promised to care for her "until death us do part." The puzzling feature of the case is how under the sun a San Jose man hapened to get clear over to Australia.

Debs will remain in jail six months, but it will take the great mass of the American people a good deal longer than that to satisfactorily decide why he is denied the company of distinguished persons who assisted in blocking the transportation of United States mails.

"Your lips," he said, "are ruby red"—
And she was pleased to hear.
"Your beauteous eyes are like the skies"—
She crept to him more near.
"Within your curls a Cupid twirls"—
She flushed a rosy red.
"Your hands so small hold me in thrall"—
And still no word she said.
"Your dimples tell where lovers fell"—
And yet no word from her.
"Your bosom's snow my heart doth know"—
And all she said was, "Sir-r-r!"

Gertrude Atherton says that "there is hardly a beautiful or a high-bred woman in New York society," and now New York society wants to know when and where Mrs. Atherton began to suspect that she would know a high-bred woman if she saw her. It is these little amenities that make life endurable, and at times even enjoyable, in the storm-beaten and blizzard-haunted east. New York society should have judgment enough to invite Mrs. Atherton to its receptions.

The suspension of Porter Ashe as guardian of the estate of Sarah Althea Terry might have been expected. Mad as the woman is, shouting wild execrations in a cell of an insane asylum, she is scarcely more incompetent to care for her property than was the man who was appointed to do so, and whose sole claim to such a trust would seem to be that he was left a handsome fortune, of which he has "made ducks and drakes" in a surprisingly short time. The man who cannot handle his own property successfully is hardly the person to manage that of somebody else, and the surprising feature of the case is that Ashe should ever have been selected for such a trust.

The full page frontispiece picture in the last issue of Harpers' Weekly is a remarkable production. It is entitled "The Holy Family," was drawn by F. Luis Mora, and is as extraordinary a comedy of anachronisms as could well be found. In the center of the picture is the virgin and her child. In the group about her is one gentleman in modern trousers, a cutaway coat, congress gaiters, with collar and cuffs and the beard and moustache of a Frenchman of 1894. Another spectator wears top boots, and has a hip pocket in his trousers. The negligee shirt of another could be bought in any second-hand clothing store now-a-days for 40 cents. The picture is a puzzle. The method of its execution forbids the idea that it would symbolize the bowing of the world before the babe of Bethlehem, and if the allegorical theory be rejected its anachronisms are so stupendous as to be unbelievable.

There is no knowing what surprising thing will or will not happen in Sacramento. For instance, a young man and woman were married in that city day before yesterday. This was not surprising, for such things happen even in Fresno, but the plot thickens as it continues. Hardly were the twain made more or less one before a former suitor of the bride's appeared on the scene. This was not very surprising, although such things are not strictly usual, outside of Sacramento. Then the husband and the ex-suitor had a fight, and the husband was whipped, and three minutes thereafter the bride had eloped with the man she hadn't promised to love, honor and obey. Of course it may be argued that in the excitement of that combative moment, and not really being very used to her husband as yet, she may have become confused and inadvertently hitched on to the wrong man, never noticing the error until it was forever too late; but such unfortunate errors do not occur outside of Sacramento. If it was a mistake it is sad to think of the poor girl's sorrow when she noticed it the next morning—yet the Sacramentans don't seem to care at all. They are used to legislatures, and nothing "jars" them.

Interfered With An Officer.

Officer George last night arrested G. Bourbon for interfering with his official duties. The officer was trying to quiet some noisy individuals who were standing on the corner of I and Mariposa streets. Bourbon spoke up, saying that the men could talk as long as they wanted to. He also defied the officer's authority.

Bourbon says that some of his friends were talking a little loud, and when the officer came up he simply remarked, "let the boys talk," whereupon the officer arrested him. Bourbon is a clerk in Dr. Bassin's drug store. He was released on bail.

Order of Adjudication of Insolvency.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of Charles Clark, an insolvent debtor.

CHARLES CLARK HAVING FILED IN THIS court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, from which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said Charles Clark is hereby declared to be insolvent. It is hereby ordered that Jay Scott, sheriff, be, and he is hereby appointed receiver of the property of said insolvent, and that upon his giving a bond to the people of the State of California, conditioned as required by law, and in such sum as the court may order, and qualifying, he take charge and possession of all of the estate, real and personal, of said Charles Clark, insolvent debtor, whatsoever and wheresoever situate, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all his deeds, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep and care for and dispose of the same until the appointment of an assignee of his estate. All persons having the same or any part thereof (including the sheriff of the County of Fresno) in his or their possession, are hereby directed to deliver said property to said receiver, and all persons owing money to said insolvent are hereby directed to pay the same to said receiver, and that said receiver keep the said property, or the proceeds thereof, till the further order of this court, and all persons are hereby forbidden to pay any debts to said insolvent, or to deliver any property belonging to such insolvent, to him, or to any person, firm, corporation or association, for his use, and the said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property until the further order of this court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor be and appear before the Hon. J. R. Webb, Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, in open court at the court room of said court, in the County of Fresno, on the 5th day of January, 1895, at 10 o'clock a.m., of that day, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in the Fresno Morning Republican, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the County of Fresno, as often as the said paper is published, before the day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against said insolvent be stayed.

J. R. WEBB, Judge of the Superior Court.

CHURCH VINDICATED.

Congregational Trustees Are Sustained.

A SMALL MINORITY REPORT

The Mutual Council Exonerates the Trustees and Mr. Collins in the Armenian Affair.

The mutual counsel appointed to determine the matters at issue between the trustees of the First Congregational church of this city and certain "aggrieved members," chiefly Armenians, represented for the purposes of the trial by the Congregational churches of Oakland and Tulare, resumed its duties yesterday morning.

At the close of the previous evening's session the Rev. W. W. Scudder asked to have read a protest agreed to by the the Rev. W. Frear, but the moderator, after learning its purport, ruled it out of order, and on appeal was sustained by the council. It is understood that the protest was against continuing the inquiry, on the ground that the decision of the council would be of no effect, as the Armenians had refused to recognize the council as a legal one.

The trustees of the church also presented an ultimatum which was received and filed. It stated their resolve not to enter into a mutual council with the aggrieved members and their desire that the decision of this council be the final termination of the question.

Rev. Dr. McLean produced for the prosecution a protest signed by forty-two "aggrieved members" of the church, which had been presented to the ex-parte council previously held. The protest was received and placed on file. The names of the signers were called for, but could not be produced.

Deacon Colson, on behalf of the trustees, testified that many of the names were those of persons who are not members of the church and never had been.

Rev. G. B. Hatch gave testimony in support of Deacon Colson, and said that sixteen of those who had signed the protest were not members of the church. Rev. J. K. Harrison also supported the statement of Deacon Colson.

Rev. H. M. Tenney said that in pursuance of instructions he had called on Mr. Josephian and endeavored to obtain the alleged insulting letter written to that gentleman by Rev. J. H. Collins, but had been unable to procure the document, which was believed to be filed away with the records of the ex-parte council.

Miss Gray testified in regard to the facts connected with the two young Armenians claiming to have been refused fellowship after being approved by vote of the church members. John Nelson, a Danish member of the church, also testified. The eighth charge was taken up, but no oral testimony, pro or con, was offered in connection with it, and after the documentary evidence had been put in the council passed to the ninth charge, relating to the alleged forcible expulsion of Mr. Sinanian from the church during the communion service.

The charge was supported by a letter from the Rev. A. Vartanian, published in a local paper, and by the records of the testimony taken at the ex-parte council.

Deacon Colson presented the answer of the church trustees, and testified that so far from Mr. Sinanian having been forcibly removed, the fact was that a whispered conversation took place as he and Mr. Sinanian walked down the church. He had acted under the impression that Mr. Sinanian was a drunken person who was disturbing the service, and only wished to have him retire from the room in order to ascertain the facts. When these were learned Mr. Sinanian and those with him were invited to return, but refused.

A letter from S. Luther to Rev. Mr. Sargent with regard to the removal of Mr. Sinanian was produced and filed. Ohanisian, of the Armenians, made some remarks on the matter, and answered questions put by members of the council. Rev. J. H. Collins testified as to his connection with the occurrence and the seating of persons in pews, and answered questions put by Ohanisian.

The council then took up the tenth charge, that the trustees had refused to take proper notice of the complaint of the Armenians about the treatment of Mr. Sinanian, and the trustees produced evidence in rebuttal, particularly the resolutions passed at a meeting in which the conduct of Mr. Sinanian was censured.

Rev. J. H. Collins denied that he had used the words, "tissue of lies," except in conversation with a newspaper reporter, and then only in reference to a newspaper publication. Charges eleven and twelve were substantially of the same kind. In rebuttal of the latter, the trustees produced written statements from Rev. W. H. Martin, Rev. D. H. Gillan and Rev. H. H. Turner, all of this city

Charge thirteen, that the Armenians had been discriminated against in various ways and stricken off the rolls without notice, was answered by the testimony of Deacon Colson to the effect that Americans as well as Armenians were dropped from the rolls at the time referred to without any attempt to recognize nationality.

After an hour's recess Rev. J. H. Collins made a personal denial that he had discriminated against Armenians in the matter of admission to church membership, and said that Armenians were admitted equally with Americans to the Society of Christian Endeavor connected with the church.

Miss Hall gave corroborative testimony. Deacon Colson gave similar testimony for himself. Rev. Dr. McLean then gave a lengthy review of the whole controversy, and invited the attention of the council to one important fact connected with the Armenians. He said substantially that much of their apparent jealousy, sensitiveness and distrust arose from the fact that they had been an oppressed people at home, and their assertion of freedom was a natural result of this oppression, now that they are in a free country, it was not unnatural that the Armenian brethren should appear to accept things calmly on the surface and yet show the contrary in spirit. The present condition of things was extremely painful to him, and he had discharged an unpleasant duty in the best way he could.

On motion the council went into executive session to prepare a decision on the whole matter.

The council was in session until a late hour. It was unofficially announced that the vote stood twenty-one for a complete vindication of the pastor and trustees of the church, and four who declined to vote because they considered the council's decision not binding.

EXTREME CRUELTY.

Mrs. Fannie David Alleges It as Grounds for a Divorce.

Extreme cruelty is the grounds set forth as a reason why the bonds of matrimony between Fannie David and James David should be severed. They were married last April and setup housekeeping in Fisher's second addition to this city; but if the story told in the plaintiff's, Mrs. David's, complaint filed yesterday is correct, there was not an earthly paradise in the household. She says that her husband's abuse began by his calling her names which could not be repeated in public, and he kept this up for some time, and then took up a more violent course, which, as the plaintiff says, worried her and made her life miserable.

She relates that on one occasion, when a dispute arose about a carpet which had been put down, Mr. David ripped it up and threw it in the fire. On another occasion, as the complaint goes on to relate, she was washing clothes in an effort to earn a living and he worried and tormented her, throwing water on the ground where she stood till she had to tramp in mud.

But the straw which seems to have broken the camel's back occurred on October 18th, when she says Mr. David procured a stick as thick as a man's thumb and whipped and beat her with it till it was broken in pieces, and threw her down on the ground and held her. In view of these abuses and cruelties she asks for a divorce, and that she may be permitted to resume her maiden name, Fannie Harris. She is represented in this suit by Thompson & Prince.

F. W. Sumner, a prominent Free Mason, who has been in Fresno for the past few days, returned to San Francisco this morning.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

CUPID'S BEST WEAPONS

Are obtained from the druggist. We can furnish the little rascal's full battery, eau de Cologne, lavender water, heliotrope perfumes, otter of rose, Jockey Club, Lily of the Valley and other toilet waters now in vogue. The aggregation is complete to exhaustion and furnishes Cupid with his full equipment. If he wanted more, he would desire what doesn't exist. Neither does there exist a more complete and reliable prescription pharmacy in this country than ours, as we make a specialty of pure and fresh drugs, recognizing good and properly prepared medicines as the basis of public health. Our stock also includes a full line of toilet and manicure articles.

ASK THEM WHY?

Ask the men who are making imitations of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening, why they give up lard and try to trade on the merits of COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess why.

ASK HIM WHY?

Ask the grocer who attempts substitution, why he tries to sell an imitation when people call for that pure, palatable and popular vegetable shortening, COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess.

ASK YOURSELF WHY?

Why should not YOU use COTTOLENE, instead of lard or any other compound, for all cooking purposes? It has the highest possible endorsement; from Physicians as to healthfulness; from Cooking Experts as to superiority; from housekeepers as to economy. Use COTTOLENE and stick to it.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

He Comes to the Defense of His Sex.

PECULIAR WAYS OF SOME WOMEN

Rumors Caught on the Fly About a New Daily Paper For Fresno.

"The ways of women," said the man who had thought till the top of his head stuck out through his hair—"the ways of women is past finding out. The other day I was readin' what some fool poet was sayin' 'bout women. He said:

'Thy gentle courtesy and kind
Doth heal man's bruised and sickened mind.'

"Gentle courtesy nothing! The jingling idiot hadn't had experience, or else he's a dum liar. Other night after Keene acted here I got on a Belmont car an' got a seat. The car filled up, an' pretty soon a woman come in that I see had got to stand. So I got up an' give her the seat that I'd paid for an' that belonged to me. Did she thank me? Bein' an average woman she didn't. No, sir; she looked right off into vacancy plum through me, and took my seat with a haughty air as if she couldn't help regrettin' that the odor of my plebeian presence still hung 'round it. But I didn't mind it; I've met women before, an' know that not more'n one out of four ever thanks you for a courtesy. Still she was dressed as if she'd like to be a lady if she only knew how.

* * *

"Other day," he continued, "I was leavin' the postoffice, an' just as I was comin' out a well dressed woman started to go in through the same door. I had the start of her, but as a matter of courtesy I backed up an' held the door open for her to pass. See how this side of my face is withered? You thought 'twas paralysis, didn't you? 'Tisn't. It's where her icy glance fell and congealed it as she passed me.

"In the light of such experiences, multiplied several thousand times, if there's anything in the wide world that does make me tired it's when some rattled, rhymin' idiot tunes his liar an' gets to singing about woman's gentle courtesy. There's lots of women that is nice ladies, but they don't all wear sealskin sacks and silk opera stockin's, an' heaps of them that does could take lessons in courtesy right along for years without gettin' farther'n C or D in its alphabet. Seems as if I feel better now. Good mornin'."

I observe with much regret that the divorce habit is becoming all too prevalent in this county. I observe, further, that a majority of the actions are brought by women on the ground of cruelty or of non-support. This is a sore reflection on the sex for belonging to which I feel that I should not be chided, and it is worthy of some consideration.

Is it a fact that it is generally man who does not care for the partner of his bosom? Make answer, ye multitude of careworn men who place two-bit pieces in your trousers' pockets and take them out of your shoes, where they have dropped through persistent holes. Make answer, ye who fasten up your pantaloons with the baby's two-legged breastpin. Make answer, ye who would surround a restaurant beefsteak as if it were some ounces of fabled ambrosia. But that is enough; ye need answer no more.

Is it a fact that it is usually man who is cruel to the one whom he has sworn to love and honor? On the streets and alleys of Fresno it is whispered that a prominent citizen's head is scarred where fell the crockery propelled by the hand of his wife as a token of her love and esteem. Again the whisper is heard, telling of another citizen whose gentle wife recently chased him about his yard and took three shots at him with a revolver, just to tell him she loved him still—in death. In neither instance has a complaint been filed.

Men and brethren, let us humbly suggest that sometimes we endure and are patient, leaving it to our partners to cultivate the divorce habit.

* * *

St. Peter stood by the narrow door,
And the key of the gate in his hand he bore.

There came from the earth a weary shade
And low obeisance to Peter made.

And, "Gracious Keeper," he humbly cried,
"I fain would pass to the other side;

For on earth I bore a burden sore,
Nor finished when the Master added more;

And I'm weary now, and fain would rest
'Mid the ransomed souls in the city blest."

"Approach," said Peter; "approach, nor quail,
For I would thy waited breath inhale."

He took one whiff, then sternly said:
"Go thou to the home of the tortured dead,

For the rule of Heaven is fixed and clear:
No garlic-eater may enter here.

In attempting to demonstrate the other day that intellectual development and culture in Fresno are very much in the keeping of the pocketless sex, I mentioned some of the ladies' literary societies of the town. In so doing, in my blundering way, I failed to record the fact that the Query Club, with a membership confined exclusively to young women, is also prostrate before the altar whereon sacrifices are offered to star-eyed wisdom. Consider the fact recorded now, as also that no local society drinks deeper draughts of knowledge than the Query Club. Do you think the omission was unimportant? Well, but didn't I tell you that the membership of the Query Club is composed exclusively of women?

* * *

The night clerk at the Hughes hotel was in a reflective frame of mind at 2 o'clock last Tuesday morning.

"It's funny," he said, "how things go in spurts in this world. Things have been just as dull lately with the hotel business as with anything else. Guests would come dribbling in one or two at a time, and not so close together that an employe couldn't get a chance to go to prayer meeting if he wanted to. But all of a sudden tonight things took one of the spurts I was mentioning, and forty-one people all piled in together. No particular reason for it; things just act that way sometimes; that's all. Of course I like these spurts—and they happen every once in a while—but I'm hanged if I could ever understand them. Don't it beatell?"

And the Man About town said it did beatell, while it occurred to him that the hotel business is not the only calling wherein the mixed life of little man is subject to "spurts." Did you ever notice anything of the sort, weary reader?

* * *

The removal of the Expositor from its accustomed place on J street leaves a vacancy. The question which the uninformed public is beginning to ask is whether another newspaper is to be started or not. Mr. Tufts has the building, and the bank has a printing outfit, except type, and there is a rumor that a newspaper will make its appearance in a short time with Aaron H. Powers Jr. at the literary helm. If the paper puts in its appearance according to this improvised program, it will probably be an independent journal with Republican leanings. The Democratic pastures have but little forage this year, and experienced journalists like Mr. Tufts and his nephew, Mr. Powers, can see that it is policy to navigate along the shores where the persimmons grow. If they should enter the newspaper field they would do so with the idea of achieving success.

It is admitted that there is no loud and vociferous clamor on the part of the people at this time for a third daily in this city; but statesmen teach that it is the duty of civilization to create demand for its wares, and a newspaper, backed in a substantial way, could enter the arena with some show of success. Mr. Tufts is still in San Francisco, and it is surmised by some that he is hunting for the man in Oakland who recently married a rich widow and who has announced that he has $100,000 to invest in a newspaper venture. If Mr. Tufts and Mr. Powers will furnish the experience and this Oakland gentleman will put his money into the business, there is a fair chance for a lively paper. But all these things are somewhat visionary at this time, and if none of them come to pass, the people should not be too painfully disappointed.

* * *

That only two Republican candidates should announce themselves for the vacancy on the superior court bench of this county, is something that the Democratic attorneys of the county cannot comprehend. If there were any show for the appointment of a Democrat, the next train north would be loaded with applicants. It would be worse than when the postoffice vacancy was to be filled. There is, however, a wish among some of the influential members of both parties that no appointment be made. While the law says that the governor must fill the vacancy, it leaves the time indefinite in which it must be done. The plan now is to defer action until the legislature, which meets January 7th, can abolish the judgeship. This would put an end to the controversy.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

STRUCK HIS WIFE.

Clarence Riley Convicted on That Charge Yesterday.

Clarence Riley was yesterday tried by a jury before Justice Austin on a charge of battery preferred by his wife. He was found guilty and sentence will be pronounced today. Riley was berating and cursing his wife a few days ago, when Harry Sherwood happened to pass by. The latter heard Riley calling the woman all the vilest names of the English vocabulary. Sherwood arrested him and took him to jail. The people reside at the corner of Mariposa and N streets.

Mrs. Riley swore out a warrant the next day charging her husband with battery, which it seems he had committed about three weeks ago. At the time THE REPUBLICAN mentioned the fact that a man with a bad cut over the eye, which he said had been inflicted by his son, had come rushing down town to Officer Barrett and wanted him to arrest the assailant. The officer advised the man to wait until morning and swear out a warrant, but nothing was done in the matter. Riley was the man who had come down for the officer.

It was brought out in the evidence yesterday that Riley had come home drunk at a late hour and asked his wife for his supper. She made no response to his request. He asked her again, at the same time advancing toward her in a threatening manner. She again made no response, whereupon he struck her. The stepson, who is about 16 years of age, here tried to interfere, and Riley kicked him in the stomach. The boy caught the father's leg and threw him down on the floor. The boy says that he must have received the cut in the fall, while Riley says that the boy threw a glass tumbler at him.

Riley then went outside and secured a hatchet, threatening to clean out the whole household. They shut the doors on him, however, and he went down town after an officer.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Misses Zora Scott and Beryl Brown Entertain Their Friends.

A number of young people gathered Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Jennie Brown, No. 152 Poplar avenue, the occasion being a surprise tendered Misses Beryl Brown and Zora Scott. The guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Puryear and marched over in a body, taking the young ladies entirely by surprise. It did not take them long, however, to make every one feel at home, and the evening was pleasantly whiled away with music, games and conversation. Several selections on the guitar and banjo were rendered by Oscar Puryear.

Later in the evening a lunch was served. After supper games were resumed until 1.30, when O. W. Beall favored the crowd with a solo, after which all joined in singing "Home, Sweet Home."

Those present were Mesdames Jennie Brown, Puryear, Lena Blachly and M. N. Nicholson; Misses Zora Scott, Beryl Brown, Daisy Foster, Millie Foster, Jessie Wouldz, Minnie Hicks and Bessie Wouldz; Messrs. Mat McHugh, Willie Rowe, James Ball, Oscar Puryear, J. N. Landrum, James Puryear, George Hawkins, Ed Greeley, Willie Brown, O. W. Beall, Lemuel Martin, R. J. Blachly, J. L. Hicks and George Brown.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

The Expositor Moves to Offices on Fresno Street.

In the future the Expositor will be issued from new offices. The type and furniture were moved last night from the office on J street to new quarters in the Woodward building on Fresno street under the public library. The old building will be left tenantless, or nearly so, for the present. The large press with the other machinery belonging to the Fresno Loan and Savings bank is in the building and it is not yet known to the public what will become of it, or to what use it will be put.

The building belongs, in part at least, to W. F. Tufts. The Expositor had been paying him $200 a month rent on it. This will now stop, and it is understood that about $150 a month will be saved in the rent item. Mr. Tufts is in San Francisco at present. The handsome sign on the plate glass window of the old office was scratched off last evening. It was perhaps the most artistic sign in Fresno, but it had to go. Its removal was on the same principle as the spiking of guns about to fall into the hands of an enemy.

The "Republican" Congratulated

From the Kern County Echo.

THE FRESNO REPUBLICAN has added A. J. Waterhouse to its staff. This man is one of the most spicy and versatile writers in the state and is destined to make his mark in the world of journalism, and THE REPUBLICAN made a good catch when it secured him.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of Sterling Price Camp of Confederate Veterans, held December 13, 1894, to take into consideration the death of Judge Samuel A. Holmes, it was moved that a committee of three be appointed to report resolutions appropriate to the occasion, and thereupon Commander E. D. Edwards appointed Comrades M. Farley, D. J. McConnell and J. R. Reiley, who presented the following, which were adopted:

To the Officers and Members of Sterling Price Camp of Confederate Veterans: Your committee selected to draft a suitable memorial on the death of our late comrade, Judge Samuel A. Holmes, respectfully submit the following:

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Supreme Commander, Almighty God, to summon from our midst an honored comrade, we are reminded that Fate moves with steady footsteps to the grave, and that we shall see our comrade, Judge Samuel A. Holmes, no more until our vision opens upon that other and new existence in the great beyond to which our advancing years move with such unceasing progress, that soon we shall all be gathered there. We yet survive, but he is gone. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Judge Samuel A. Holmes we have lost a comrade of high and noble character, of spotless integrity and eminently worthy of all the honors that he has received at the hands of his fellow citizens.

Resolved, That as a camp we mourn his loss and will miss the companionship of his kind and generous spirit.

Resolved, That in the death of our honored comrade the community at large has lost the eminent services and fraternal counsels of one of its oldest citizens, one whom they respected as a friend, neighbor, citizen and faithful advocate of all that is just, right and honorable, whose heart fostered no evil toward his fellow men, and whose hand was ever open to do the deeds of kindness.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to the honored widow and family of the deceased our tenderest sympathies, born of long and intimate relations with our departed comrade, and we commend them to the love and protection of Him, who doth all things well, remembering that it is appointed unto all men once to die. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. The husband and farther is not dead, but sleepeth, and though separated from us, the memory of his kind heart and generous deeds will ever live among us.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our camp and a copy be sent to the family of our deceased comrade and to the daily papers for publication.

M. FARLEY,
D. J. MCCONNELL,
J. R. REILY,
Committee.

Can we Support Them?

Every city on the coast, whose population is equal to that of Fresno, supports a dramatic company playing the best material at moderate prices, and find it not only a pleasure but profitable as they supply wolesome amusement at a very moderate figure, and a family man finds an opportunity to treat his entire household once or twice a week for less than his usual single admission. Dalley's company which has been selected by Manager Barton to make a test with our theater goers Christmas week, is the oldest organization on the coast, and the successors to Grismer-Davies. The plays selected are the very strongest, opening with Augustin Daly's famous comedy "A Night Off" and following with "Wages of Sin" and "Galley Slave," giving two nights of each and two matinees, i.e. Christmas day and Saturday. The sale opens Thursday at 9 a.m., and will doubtless be big as the organization deserves it.

In Demand.

The reader will wonder what it is that applies to the above heading in these so-called hard times. It is true, people in general are retrenching and spend less this season for fancy articles and ornamental presents than ever before, nevertheless useful and practical gifts are in steady demand and this want is supplied by Louis Einstein & Co. in better fashion than in any other establishment in Fresno. Rugs, portieres, table covers, comforters and blankets, garments, dress goods, neckwear, handkerchiefs, mufflers, kid gloves, fine lamps, china and glassware, have been in steady demand the past ten days. Louis Einstein & Co. have consequently no complaint to make about business. The beautiful souvenir which this firm gives away to every patron is also in great demand, and our patrons can choose from eight different, finely executed engravings of renowned works of art, all of them well worth to adorn any home.

Importations.

We have not time to numerate all the nice gifts we have suitable for the people who were effected by the hard times, nor the elegant, handsome presents for those who did not feel the pinch. Call and you will find our stock has been well selected—some from Germany others from France, the remaining portion all the way from the east. Two-thirds stopped over in San Francisco, the remainder came straight through to South & Fentem's. The rich, the poor and the children shall receive the same warm welcome and good treatment at South & Fentum's.

Order of Adjudication of Insolvency.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of A. B. Covalt, an insolvent debtor.

A. B. COVALT HAVING FILED IN THIS court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, from which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said A. B. COVALT is hereby declared to be insolvent. It is hereby ordered that Jay Scott, be, and he is hereby appointed receiver of the property of said insolvent, and that upon his giving a bond to the people of the state of California, conditioned as required by law, and in such sum as the court may order, and qualifying, he take charge and possession of all of the estate, real and personal, of said A. B. Covalt, insolvent debtor, whatsoever and wheresoever situate, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all his deeds, vouchers books of account and papers, and to keep and care for and dispose of the same until the appointment of an assignee of his estate. All persons having the same, or any part thereof (including the Sheriff of the county of Fresno) in his or their possession, are hereby directed to deliver said property to said receiver, and all persons owing money to said insolvent are hereby directed to pay the same to said receiver, and that said receiver keep the said property, or the proceeds thereof till the further order of this court. And all persons are hereby forbidden to pay any debts to said insolvent, or to deliver any property belonging to such insolvent, to him, or to any person, firm corporation or association for his use, and the said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property until the further order of this court, except as herein ordered.

It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor be and appear before the Hon. J. R. Webb, Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, in open court at the court room of said court, in the county of Fresno, on the 19th day of January, 1895, at 9:30 o'clock a.m. of that day, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered, that this order be published in THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN, a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Fresno, county of Fresno, California, as often as the said paper is published before the day set for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against said insolvent be stayed.

Dated December 18th, A. D. 1894.
